Senator Bristow Says It's in the Interest of the Sugar Trust—Senator Newlands Says That It Will Bind the Islands to Us "Indissolubly and Forever."

Washington, June 14.-After a discussion of about six hours to-day the Senate rejected two amendments offered by Senator Bristow to the paragraph in the tariff bill providing free trade between the United States and the Philippine lelands, excepting a limited amount of sugar and tobacco. The fight over the sugar schedule was renewed by Senator Bristow, one of the radical 'Republicans, who claimed that the provision offered by the Finance Committee as a substitute for the House paragraph was to the advantage of the American Sugar Refining Company, or the so-called sugar trust. Mr. Bristow's first amendment, which was designed to prevent the imposition on refined or unrefined sugar imported from the Philippine Islands of the same rate of duty as is provided in the Dingley law, was rejected. The vote was 11 ayes to 40 noes.

The second amendment, which provided that preferential treatment should be given to the producers of less than 1,000 gross tons annually instead of 500, as provided by the committee amendment, was defeated on a viva voce vote.

Senator Fletcher offered an amendment to strike out the free trade provision entirely and substitute the Dingley rates on all imports from the Philippines but he later withdrew this amendment in order to allow more discussion.

In the early part of the consideration of the paragraph Connecticut was heard from. Senator Bulkeley secured the adoption of an amendment to protect the manufacturers of wrapper tobacco in his own State. Senator Heyburn of Idaho made a protest against the wording of the paragraph, which he declared would postpone the legislation giving the right to the receipts from revenues to the Philippines for a year. Senator Aldrich tried to soothe Mr. Heyburn by pointing out that the Insular Bureau had recommended the form of language used.

Mr. Heyburn. "I am here to legislate on my own responsibility." Senator Bristow spoke in opposition to the provision in the bill giving a preferin the admission of Philippine sugar they free to producers of 500 tons or less.

Mr. Bristow declared that it was in the interest of the American Sugar Refining Company and was one of the "jokers" in the tariff bill. The Kansas Senator declared that with the present crude machinery in use in the Philippines a low grade sugar is produced that can be sold only to the American Sugar Refining Company. By giving preference to producers only to the American Sugar Refining Com-pany. By giving preference to producers of 200 tons or less the bill would discourage the putting in of the expensive machinery received by the control of the expensive machinery received by the control of the control of the Head of the control of the control of the control of the tentral of the control of th

ELLIS HAD HIS BEARD CLIPPED. Oregon Congressman So Changed That the House Doorkeeper Didn't Know Him.

WASHINGTON, June 14 .- William R. Ellis, a member of Congress from Oregon, and for a minute or two was denied admission to the chamber. When Mr. Ellis left the Capitol Saturday he was the possessor of a beard that ran all around his face and extended a foot or two below his chin. The Ellis beard has been one of the proud boasts of Congress for many years. that the House employees failed to recognize him.

"You can't go in there, sir!" shouted a doorkeeper as Congressman Ellis started to pass into the House "This way to the gallery."

Mr. Ellis cast a haughty look at the man who attempted to hold him up, only to be told gently but firmly that the chamber he was about to enter was reserved for the elect and that if he wanted to witness the proceedings he would have to so to elect and that if he wanted to witness the proceedings he would have to go to the floor above, where he would be shown to the gallery. Then Mr. Ellis lost his temper as a result of which he was

But all this has been changed. The Ellis whiskers exposed to public view to-day are radically different from their predecessors. No longer does the Ellis beard cover both cheeks. A part of it has been a large expanse of healthy flesh, the whiskers bearing a close resemblance to what are known in London as mutton chops. There is still the long bush attached to the chin, but it is not the old beard so well known to the people of the Second Oregon district and to the citizens of the District of Columbia.

CONFIRMED

CONFIRMED BY THE SENATE. New Director of the Census and Deputy Commissioner of Corporations.

WASHINGTON, June 14 .- The Senate in executive session this morning confirmed the nomination of E. Dana Durand of and Luther Conant, Jr., of New York to be Deputy Commissioner of Corporations.

The Senate Judiciary Committee to-day ordered a favorable report on the nomination of Thomas Cader Powell to be United States Marshal for the Second District of Alaska. Senator Bourne of Oregon, who opposed the appointment, withdrew his objections, and the nomination will probably be confirmed within the next few days. The charges against Mr. Powell were based upon an alleged shortage which was discovered in his accounts many years ago while he was the trust." he added, "and then compel them to buy their refined sugar from the trust, which fixes the price of the raw sugar it buys as well as the price of the remaind sugar it sells."

He has served one term as marshal for the Second District of Alaska, and his service was so satisfactory to the Department of Justice that his reappointment was commended.

Wilbur Crafts of the "Reform Bureau" Repeats Charges Against District Attorney Which U. S. Found Groundless "Gambles" and "Drinks," They Say.

Letters and affidavits sent to President Roosevelt and Attorney-General Bonaparte by citizens of Honolulu, designed to show that R. W. Breckons, United Chicago packing houses trying to get States District Attorney for Hawaii, is work. She described the lives of the unfit for office, were given to the newspapers yesterday by the Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the
"International Reform Bureau."

Late in the Roosevelt régime Breckons sent in his resignation, The resignation

The resignation of the lives of the children in the packing district and said that in one city block five per cent. of the total population of the block consisted of sick babies. This particular block contained fifty-one buildings occupied by 149 families consisting of 823 persons.

was accepted and the President nominated Mr. Atkinson of Honolulu for the lace. The nomination went over because the Senate got it only four days before the adjournment of the last Congress. When Attorney-General Wickersham suceeded Bonaparte District Attorney Breckons withdrew his resignation at Mr. Wickersham's request. Now Honolulu men who complained of Breckons last year have asked President Taft to look at the affidavits himself.

One of the cases cited is that of a criminal libel action brought by the Japanese Consul-General in Honolulu against the Japanese editor of the Hawaii Shimpo. appeared at the door of the House to-day It is alleged that District Attorney Breckons served as counsel for the de-fendant until ordered off by Attorney-General Bonaparte.

He is also accused of having run counter to the "Ministerial Union" of Honolulu in refusing to enforce the law against prostitution and of being friendly with keepers rothels.

The decree was granted, and the husband was ordered to pay $2,000 alimony at once and $1,000 later. Presently the husband came into possession of letters incriminating the wife. Mr. Breckons, according to one of the Thwing affidavits submitted to President Roosevelt, informed the wife that the letters would be surrendered to her upon condition that she would release the husband from the payment of the $1,000 still due her.

There was a "Chinaman of notoriously bad character named Lam Yip," who, Mr. Thwing made affidavit to Attorney-General Bonaparte, was indicted for holding young Chinese girls in peonage and for adultery. The cases against him were continued from time to time by Mr. Breckons and finally noile prossed. "Ten days before they were noile prossed," the affidavit says, "Mr. Breckons accepted a retainer from Lam Yip in a civil case involving $7,000 and upwards." What purports to be a letter from Mr. Breckons admitting that he had taken make an investigation the complaints were diamissed.

A hint of the Rev. Dr. Wilbur F Crafts that Attorney-General Wickersham had retained Mr. Breckons in office because of Mr. Wickersham's alleged legal connection with the American Sugar Refining Company in New York brought forth in ostatement from the Attorney-General is just now engaged in an investigation looking toward the possible prosecution of the so-called sugar trust in New York.

It is understood that Mr. Breckons, far from favoring the sugar trust in Hawaii, has been somewhet soutve against that corporation whenever the interests of the corporation and those of the Government have clashed.
